

Charts on Inequity in Education in Australia

Chart 1: Cumulative Probability of Low Performance in Mathematics, Australia, PISA 2012

Note: The profile of a low risk student is a student who is a boy, has no immigrant background, speaks the same language at home as the language of assessment, lives in a two-parent family, attends a school located in a city, attended pre-primary education for more than one year, has not repeated a grade, and is enrolled in a general education track.

Chart 2: Index of Teacher Shortages in Schools Attended by Low Performers in Mathematics, PISA 2012

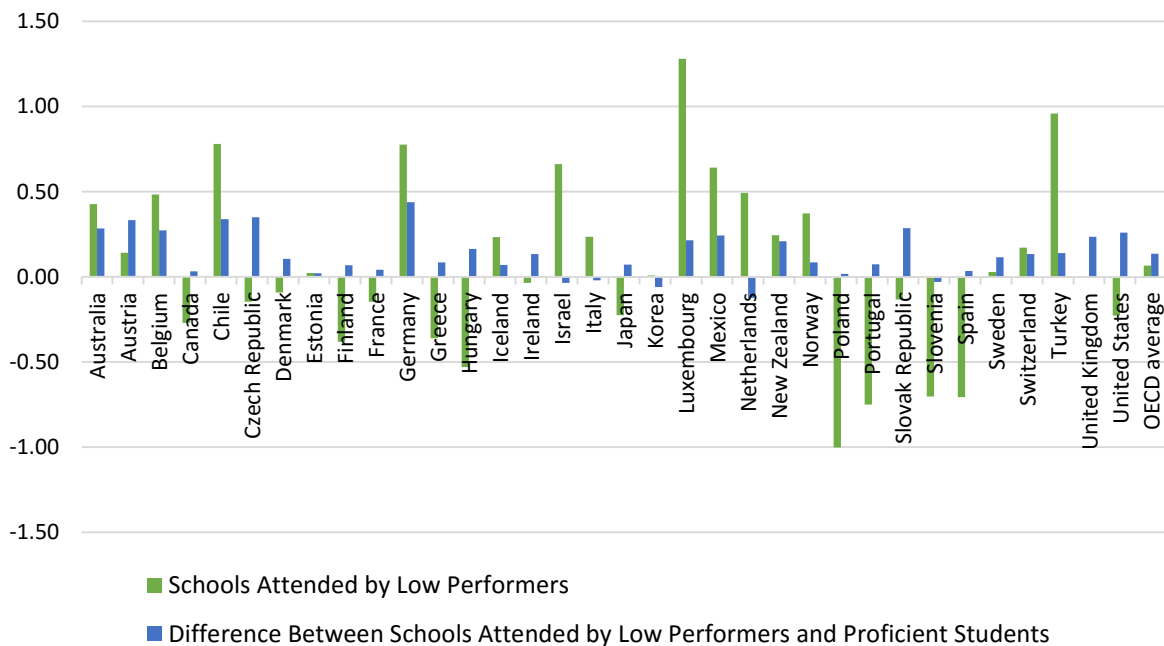

Chart 3: Index of the Quality of Educational Resources in Schools Attended by Low Performers in Mathematics, PISA 2012

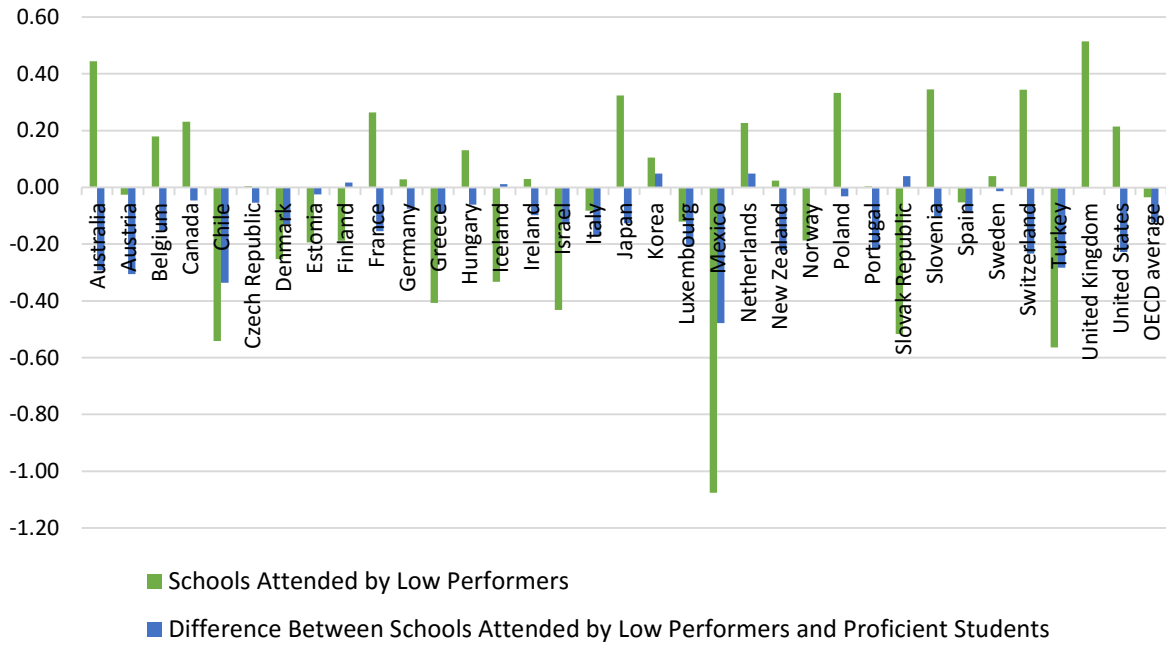

Chart 4: Index of Equity in Resource Allocation Between Disadvantaged and Advantaged Schools, PISA 2012

